PITTSBURGH (February 23, 2017) -- The 2017 World Medical Cannabis Conference & Expo (WMCCExpo) invites healthcare providers to gain a comprehensive introduction to medical marijuana and earn up to 22.5 continuing medical education (CME) credits.

Attendees will receive a 12-month subscription to TheAnswerPage.com, a user-friendly online database and the potential to earn 22.5 CME Credits™, including risk management.

Presented by Compassionate Certification Centers™ (CCC) the physician-led conference will take place Friday and Saturday, April 21-22, at the David L. Lawrence Convention Center, 1000 Fort Duquesne Boulevard, in Pittsburgh.

Tickets for the Medical Marijuana CME Course start at $399 and include an all-day Saturday conference pass, three-hour educational seminar, and TheAnswerPage.com subscription.

To purchase tickets or for more information, call 1-888-316-9085, or visit www.cccregister.com.

The management team behind the conference aims to establish a more inclusive and progressive healthcare dialogue by incorporating medical marijuana resources and patient care into mainstream medicine.

“This conference is applicable to anyone who is involved in patient care. It was designed by physicians for healthcare professionals to educate all providers,” said Dr. Bryan Doner, CEO and co-founder.

The CME Course begins with an “Introduction to Medical Cannabis and the Endocannabinoid System,” from 11 a.m. – 2 p.m., Saturday, April 22.

The seminar will be led by Dr. Stephen Corn, board certified physician of Brigham and Women’s Hospital and Children’s Hospital in Boston, and faculty member at Harvard Medical School.

Healthcare providers will have the opportunity to network with other clinical professionals during the event, and have access to the medical marijuana library at TheAnswerPage.com for a full year.

Providers have the freedom to choose CME credit™ syllabi specific to their field of interest. Topics vary from broad overviews of the endocannabinoid system to specific diseases such as, “The Medical Use of Marijuana in Huntington’s Disease,” and the “Medicolegal: New York State Medical Marijuana Legal Course Series.”

TheAnswerPage.com is an innovative resource platform accessed in 120 countries with more than 20,000 registered users.

“We are proud to offer healthcare professionals a convenient and innovative opportunity to earn CME credits while introducing them to the medical marijuana industry,” stated Melonie Kotchey, COO and co-founder.

The 2017 WMCCEXpo is the first large-scale medical marijuana conference led by physicians for the health care industry. Nearly 8,000 general attendees and 170 exhibitors are expected to attend including industry leaders, entrepreneurs and patients from throughout the country.
